HOW THINGS LOOK AT BODIE.

A Lively Camp but Overcrowded—The Coming Winter.

Correspondence of the Enterprise.

I left Virginia on the 6th instant for Bodie via Carson by stage, and finally brought up at the stage office in Bodie at 7 o'clock the next morning, sleepy, dusty and tired. I met many acquaintances, and all spoke well of the camp. Though I met many men who told me they were broke and hard up, yet even these spoke well of the place. As a rule, when you find men in a new mining camp who are broke, they curse the place bitterly and multitudinously, but such is not the case in Bodie. Although many are hard up, all seem to be in good spirits. The sound of the hammer and saw is to be heard in all parts of the town from "early morn to dewy eve." Carpenters receive $30 per day, and there are probably 250 or 300 men of that trade at work in the town. Buildings are going up in all directions, and they are building faster than lumber can be furnished. Lumber is worth $55 per thousand. Every dollar received by carpenters is from new corners. As the above figures and statements were obtained from sources which insure their correctness, all may draw their own conclusions in regard to the present situation and outlook in Bodie. There are now probably 6000 persons in Bodie, with more arriving daily, thus it will be seen that there are plenty of people there to do all that is required to be done in any business. Snow has been known to fall in Bodie to the depth of eight and ten feet—though this only once in a great while—therefore there is a chance for trouble this winter should the town take fire. The town would go like a bunch of matches, as there is not water enough in the whole place to stop it, could it be brought to bear on the proper spot.

Curiosities of Gambling.

Exploits in drinking lager beer are receiving the attention of the Cincinnati newspapers, and some of the stories are wonderful. A fireman drank twelve glasses of beer while a church clock was striking twelve, the time being about half a minute. Dr. No. 1 drank eight gallons in two hours, and his competitor in a trial of capacity was not left for behind. No. 1 is regarded as the Cincinnati champion, but there are several men in that city who have emptied an eight gallon keg in three to five hours. An old employee of a brewery has drunk fifty glasses every day for eighteen years. Brewers' men generally drink heavily. In one brewery they are allowed from six to fourteen glasses each per day, according to their age and work. Cards are placed behind a bar, and upon them the names of the employees are written. A man goes to the bar and asks for a glass of beer, which is given him, and a hole at the same time is punched in his card. When the number of holes corresponds to the number of drinks allowed him for the day, he can have no more, though the day may not be more than half spent.

An Eventful Day at Modesto.

Modesto, Cal., Aug. 15.—Last night about one hundred men visited all the gambling houses, dance houses and Chinese opium dens, and gave them notices to close up and leave town within twenty-four hours or abide the consequences, and this morning there was quite an emigration. About ten days ago a young girl about thirteen years old came to Modesto and was met by one Kelly, and in a friendly way taken to a house of ill-fame. The next day a telegram came for her father to have her arrested. When the officers went to make the arrest they had taken her away, and they have not been able to find her yet. They telegraphed for the father, who left a sick bed and arrived here last night. This morning the father met the seducer of his child at the railroad depot and immediately drew a small sized pocket knife and stabbed her several times in the abdomen. The wounds are thought to be mortal. To sympathy of our citizens is with the father.

From the Enterprise.

There is no disputing the fact that Nevada wears out people fast. There is a spot on earth where the mind of man are kept on a more perpetual strain than right here in Virginia City. There are very few old men here. People talk justly in praise of the vigorous and pure air of this mountain city, and yet it is not a good place to make old bones in. * * * To buy stocks when they are high and sell when they are low, year after year; to find promises held to the hope broken to the hearts of men, day after day, has the effect to wear out the rabbit metal in the boxes of men, and make a dreadful cutting of men's bearings.

A hole cut in the foot of an Ohio farmer made it easier, but it also gave an opportunity to a copperhead snake to step up in his barn. He was bitten upon the exposed spot and killed.

Stelly was at O'Connell's, at Py. Ind., and hit a dog. Then, with fire in his mind, Daugherty shot at Stelly and hit a nurse.

Killed By a Mule.

MAXWELL, Cal., Aug. 15.—A distressing accident occurred twelve miles northwest of this place to-day. Lee McCoy, son of John McCoy, one of our most prominent citizens, had started to get his father's threshing machine, riding a mule. The mule arrived at the machine alone, when the men started back over the road the mule had come and found the boy lying dead on the side of the road. The supposition is, that the boy in getting off, caught his foot in the stirrup, and the mule became frightened and ran away and, in his endeavor to clear himself from the boy, killed him.

Alice Oates, the opera singer, now Mrs. Watkins, was dining with her husband in a Philadelphia restaurant. A United States naval officer, described as "a near relative of Poker Schenck, sat with a party at a table close by. Watkins sprung up and asked: "What do you mean by looking at my wife?" "We certainly did not look at her with any disrespect," replied the officer. "Then what did you look at all for?" cried the enraged husband, flourishing a bottle. The officer thereupon struck Watkins, and there was a brief fight, during which the singer let out her voice in screams.

At the close of a prayer meeting in a Methodist church in Acton, Ind., Brother Hamlin, superintendent of the Sunday school, announced that the services on the following Sunday would be held in a grove near by. This was really the result of a division in the congregation. Pastor Weaver said that, on the contrary, the usual services would be held in the church, and at once pronounced the benediction. The two men met in the aisle, quarreled fiercely, and then had a fight, in which the clergyman whipped the superintendent.

The ex-Khedive of Egypt lives lazily and luxuriously aboard the frigate Mahrouse, which lies at anchor in the bay of Naples. Nearly the entire vessel is given up to his use. His harem, containing twelve women, is in one of the cabins, while his eunuchs and other servants occupy the hold. He is not depressed in spirits, reads the newspapers regularly, and is greatly interested in all comments and news about Egypt, but is mainly concerned as to his personal comfort.

A Western paper says of the loss of a vessel: "The captain swam ashore, so did the chambermaid; she was injured for $15,000, and loaded with iron."

Hotel To Let.

A new two-story brick building, containing twenty rooms, and a large hall, under Mansard roof; all hard finished. Also large bar-room and commodious parlors. It is provided with a large cellar. The house is situated near the railroad depot, and opposite the new theatre. For particulars inquire of L. WINTERHAGEN.

HARD TIMES AND THE CHINESE.

The Congressional Committee, appointed to investigate the causes of the present labor depression, are now in San Francisco. Last Friday they heard the evidence of some of the prominent citizens, relative to the effect of Chinese immigration. The testimony furnishes some facts of interest, and the opinions of some of the gentlemen examined are worth knowing. T. B. Shannon, Collector of Customs, who had been requested by the government to ascertain the number of Chinese in the country estimates it at $6,430; 87,000 in the Pacific States, and 29,430 in the Eastern States. He placed the Chinese population of San Francisco at 30,000. This estimate falls greatly below the popular notion of the number of Chinese on the coast. It has been frequently stated that there were fully 150,000 Chinamen on the Pacific coast. San Francisco has been supposed to contain at least 50,000. As Collector Shannon stated that he had taken pains to get a correct estimate, his figures probably approximate to the truth.

Mr. Shannon thinks the reason why we are not a manufacturing community is because labor and capital are so much higher here that we have not been able to compete with Eastern manufacturers. This is a sound conclusion. It is impossible to establish manufactures here to compete with Eastern products, while labor commands so much higher rates, except of such goods as are expensive to transport.

Shannon very sensibly remarked, in reply to questions, that "we call times hard here, but it is only in comparison to the flush times past." In regard to the moral effect of the Chinese among us, he thought that adulterated liquors do more injury; that the Chinese demoralize only such white men as wish to be demoralized. In conclusion, Collector Shannon summed up the whole Chinese question in a way that we can cordially endorse. This is what he said:

"The Chinese people as a people are a detriment to the future prosperity of the country. The remedy would be an amendment to the treaty, and that the National Government should restrict their immigration. The uniting of the better class of white people with Chinese has no elevating effect upon the latter. They do not and never will assimilate politically with us. I believe in keeping the price of labor high enough to support the family. If the present number of Chinese were stopped to-day from coming, the Chinese question would pass from consideration in political economy; but the future troubles us. In time they would expel white labor, and this section of the country would be a Chinese colony. A day's labor of a Chinaman is about the same as that of a white man. If they think they can make something they become Christians, and if they had the opportunity, and thought they could make by it, they would become citizens. Chinese immigration has had the tendency to lessen immigration from the Eastern States."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The rapid development of Mammoth City may be inferred from the fact that the Herald of that burg thinks that Mr. Ogg "is slighting the people of Lake just a trifle in running a two-horse buck-board between here and Bodie, when the passenger travel fully warrants a four-horse stage."

At last one pedestrian has come to grief. The Idaho Democrat learns that Wm. Lucas, while running a foot race at Atlanta a few days ago, tripped and fell, breaking one of his legs and dislocating his collar bone.

Idaho is filling up rapidly and is prosperous. Land that was thought hardly worth paying taxes on three years ago is now being sold in Boise City for building lots at $50 or $100 each.

Newly married nameless man in Carson found his blushing bride seated on woodpile behind Mint after dark. The partner of his joys and sorrows refused to go home, and started off to meet some other fellow, as the irate husband supposed. Stormy meeting later in the evening at their cottage home. Petruccio carried wife's dresses into the street and made bonfire. She looked on and wept while he poked the fire. Carson newspapers at war upon the question of which was to blame.

George W. Crum and James Ferris own 14,000 acres of land at the "big bend" of the Humboldt, near Battle Mountain, which cost them $35,150, and is now worth four times the amount. They will cut nearly 800 tons of hay this year. They have 2500 cattle, besides horses and mules.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Lively times in Tuscarora. The grain is all cut in Reese River valley. A telephone connects Eureka with Ruby Hill. The Haverlys had crowded houses in Eureka.

Tuscarora has had a billiard tournament. Quigley won.

Anniversaries of floods are turning up in Eastern Nevada.

Three new cases of diphtheria in Tuscarora last Thursday.

About seventy-five men are now working in the Sutra tunnel.

Trinity shaft is 300 feet deep, the deepest in Battle Mountain district.

Jesus Christ lives in Paradise valley, and is a steady, hard-working Mexican.

All the sage brush within ten miles of Tuscarora has been consumed for fuel.

The Hoosier State mill, one of the oldest in Virginia, is being pulled down.

Henry Lee escaped from the chain gang at Carson Saturday and was not recaptured.

Constable Harville was fined $25 for saying "damme" in the Justice's Court at Tuscarora.

Twenty-nine car loads of cattle were shipped west from Winnemucca in two days of last week.

The broken water pipe at Lake View has been repaired, and Virginia has plenty of water again.

A Carson lad playfully chased a cow, and was tightly tossed on her crumpled horns. He came down uninjured.

Twenty-one of Eureka's belligerent coal burners were arrested last week, and sixteen were in jail on Saturday.

Mamie Collins entered a Carson gambling saloon and played away her money, false teeth, dress, shoes and false hair.

At the head of Diamond valley, coyotes are to be seen in droves, hunting the rabbits that abound in that vicinity.

Jimmy Hall, on a bet of $25, put up a 14-pound dumb-bell 2,005 times, winning the money easily. So the Leader says.

Two ex-ladies of Carson engaged in a fight in a restaurant. One of the young women nearly lost a finger in the other's mouth.

While M. D. Hatch and family, of Carson, were fishing at Hope valley, Indians entered their house and stole dresses and blankets.

There are probably fifty persons, male and female, in this town, who are habitual opium smokers, says the Tuscarora Times-Review.

The "Gilded Age" proved a rich find for Mark Twain. Up to the end of the past season John T. Raymond paid him $156,000 in royalties.

A one-legged man walked a tight rope across C street, Virginia, Friday evening. He threatens to wheel his mother-in-law across the same rope on a wheelbarrow.

Two holes have been run into the Union Consolidated mine on the 2400 level, with the diamond drill, both of which show ore all the way, one being 80 and the other 98 feet in length.

The purchase money for the Big Prize mine ($10,000) was last Tuesday paid over in Winnemucca, the Parasite Reporter says. Last winter $45,000 was offered and refused for this mine.

A Chinese woman at Austin swallowed juice from an opium pipe, hoping to shuffle off her mortal coil. Her owner administered an emetic and saved her life for a career of usefulness.

An opium pipe, made by drilling a hole in a two ounce vial, was found in the Eureka jail. The stem was made of a piece of broom handle, split, hollowed out and fitted together again.

Mr. Whitford, says the Carson Tribune, who has been seriously ill since being frightened by a burglar, has lain to-day in a comatose state, from which it is doubtful whether she will recover.

The latest bit of gossip, says the Virginia Stage, is to the effect that Professor Ascheim has challenged Madame LaChappelle, the winner of the ladies' belt in San Francisco to walk him a six-day match.

In Carson, a horse frightened by a dog barking at his heels, threw Mrs. McLaughlin from the saddle. She was not injured. Meral—Ladies should ride mules. No dog barks at a mule's heels—not habitually.

A Carson young lady had two suitors. They met and quarreled at her house. Outside the door one knocked the other down. The lady has no suitors now, and the Appeal thinks heart's blood will soon be freely flowing.

Carson policeman arrested a vagrant and left him in the empty court-room. "Forgetting all about" his prisoner, the policeman sat down on the sidewalk for a rest (as is the custom in Carson), whereupon the vagrant ran away. Carson turned out in pursuit of the fugitive, who was at length captured by a prominent citizen.

The collar-and-elbow wrestling match at Piper's Opera House, Saturday night, between J. C. Bray and Isaac Lucha, for $500 a side, was won by Mr. Bray. The first fall was received by Bray, but it was decided not on the square. Bray then gave his opponent three straight falls. The match was stubbornly contested and lasted three quarters of an hour.

Residents of Sutra who want a hot bath, lie down in the flume through which the water from the flooded mines flows to the Carson river. They like to bathe in this way, but say the water is too blam'd hot. As the place referred to is about five miles from that where the water enters the drain, some idea may thus be formed of the great heat of the water in the flooded mines.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Fourteen divorces were granted in San Francisco on the 18th instant.

Milk is a bit a quart, and potatoes six cents a pound at Mammoth City. A little boy of Mammoth City lost three fingers in play with a giant powder cap.

There are no unwashed in Ogden. A "bathing train" runs to the Lake every morning.

Grass Valley bees are very destructive to fruit. One orchardist complains that they ate up all his crop of peaches.

Deadwood can boast of a night watchman who sports a two hundred and fifty dollar diamond pin, sleeve buttons, etc.

Another district has been formed in Mono county, Cal., in the northwestern portion, to be called the Silver Creek Mining District.

A Boise City man took a walk into the mountains and shot nineteen grouse—a bad day for grouse, too, the Idaho Democrat thought.

The brake used on a logging team in use at Bridgeport, Mono county, while the team was coming down hill, gave way, the heavy load running over and killing five fine oxen.

David Love, a sometime army officer, school teacher and lawyer, was picked up in a cattle corral in Bodie last Friday, where he had been lying for hours in the sun. He is paralytic and a pauper.

The Modesto Herald of Thursday says: Grain is arriving in large quantities at the Modesto warehouse, notwithstanding the low figures now prevailing, viz: $1 42 to $1 48. About 500 tons have been shipped the past week.

In the northern part of Arizona, 1,000 Indians subsist entirely on what they can pick up in the way of acorns, berries, nuts, grass seed, and a little wild game. Aya-Su-Pai, if anything, exceed 1,000 in number, and for several years have lived without aid from the Government, preferring to suffer starvation rather than give up their country in the North and go on the reservation at San Carlos.

The preserving of red fish, a new industry, is now being engaged in with profit at Wallowa Lake, Oregon. In August they run up into the branches near the head of the lake, where the water is shallow, and are then caught in great numbers with pitchforks, sharpened sticks, hooks, and by hand. These fish average twenty inches in length, and vary in weight from four to eight pounds.

Robert W. Kellan shot and killed Le Burn, a Portuguese, near the Heiser road, about eighteen miles from Ukiah, August 14th. The killing occurred late in the evening and grew out of land troubles. It seems that no one was present when the killing took place. Different versions of the affair are afloat. Kellan is a married man and has heretofore born a good character. He reached Ukiah the night after the killing and surrendered himself to the officers.

Some important changes have just been made in the superintendency of the Central Pacific railroad, to take effect on the 20th inst. S. A. Filmore, Superintendent of the Sacramento Division, the California and Oregon and California Pacific, is promoted to the position of Master of Transportation, with headquarters at San Francisco. R. H. Pratt, at present Superintendent of the Salt Lake Division, will succeed Mr. Filmore at Sacramento, and A. G. Fell, of Ogden, will succeed Mr. Pratt.

Two Mammoth Shows in One!

The Stud of Educated Horses is far superior to any that has ever been seen in any circus. The high state of perfection to which the noble animals have been brought can hardly be credited, and baffles description.

Bartholomew's new system of hippo-instruction will be exemplified by The Troupe of Bronco Horses, whose astonishing performances in military maneuvers and other surprising feats are the very acme of cultivated instinct.

SIGNOR G. CHIARINI'S Admirably trained horses, a la haute école, are the models of perfection, evincing in their performance the near approach of brute instinct to human reason. Attractive! Interesting! Instructive!

MARKET.

McMAHON JONES.—In Reno, August 15th, 1879, by Wm. H. Young, Justice of the Peace, M. McMahon and Miss Fannie Jones.

METEOROLOGICAL.

The thermometer at Osburn & Shoemaker's at 10 o'clock to-day stood as follows:
7 a. m., 65; 10 a. m., 70; 1 p. m., 83; 5 p. m., 92.

THE GRIZZLY EXPEDITION.

A Camp at Last Chance—Disturbed by a Grizzly—The Deadly Bullet Does Its Work.

The band of sportsmen who left Reno early last week on a foraging expedition to Grizzly Valley was heard from last Saturday. The gang camped at Last Chance on Friday night. During the night the cry of "Bear" started the sleepers from their blankets. "Where," they shouted, "is each spring to his feet and poured a handful of bullets into his shot-gun. "Hush," said a familiar voice, "I see him," and then by the dim light of the smoldering camp fire they saw Comstock crawling on all fours and hands and knees among the trees. Crack went a rifle, and they heard him yell:

"I've done for him, you bet. He's a bruiser, though, I guess. Bet he'll be close on to a thousand, or I'm no judge. That's the bear gun, and no mistake. Plumb through the brain, as I'm a sinner."

By this time all hands, headed by Comstock, had found their way up to the place where the animal had been lying in his gore. He was of a good size, but there were bristles all over him. The boys had spare rib roasting over the fire that night, but Comstock didn't eat any pork, although he took the bill next morning, like a man. Next morning Osburn made a magnificent long miss at a fast flying quail, but peppered Winchel pretty well. The penetration was not very good, although the pattern was all that could be desired. The party concluded Last Chance was too warm, and pushed on further up into the mountains.

JOTTINGS.

—M. Weil is having a stock of goods made up in Cleveland for the fall trade.
—Caldwell & Patterson are now running a daily mail between Reno and Goose Lake.

—Linen coats and dusters, all sizes, at reduced prices, can be found at the Great Eastern I. X. L.

—James Anderson and Frank No. 10 were discharged from jail to-day. Anderson commenced a new life by getting gloriously drunk.

—Haverly's big troupe arrived from Everett last night and took the express for Carson this morning. There are forty-six persons in the company, all told.

—Last evening about ten o'clock a drunk was peacefully reposing on the sidewalk of Virginia street. His boots were neatly blacked, and a folded newspaper was carefully tucked under his head for a pillow. He reclined on his back, fast asleep, and was left undisturbed.

A sand spout.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock one of those strange phenomena known as sand spouts was witnessed from Reno. Some distance east of town a column of dust rose high into the air, and at a height of several hundred feet beat toward the east, and then went up vertically again. It could be traced a great distance from the earth until it seemed lost in space. The swift motion of the particles of dust could be discerned a mile away. These phenomena are very common in Summer in the country between Reno and Surprise Valley.

A Crazy Prisoner.

William Carriker, an insane man, was sent down from Franktown yesterday morning to the county hospital, in charge of Deputy Sheriff May. In the afternoon he became so violent that his removal to the jail became necessary. There he has continued violent, and to-day stripped himself of all his clothing and raved in the wildest manner. Sheriff Walker thinks he will be quiet enough tomorrow to allow of his return to the hospital.

SIERRA COUNTY PROSPECTS.

A Letter From The Locater Of Peavine District—Some Claims Owned By Reno Citizens

To the Editor of the Gazette: I take this opportunity to advise you of the prospects of Sierra county, both in gravel and in quartz mining. The old blue gravel channel has been struck, and is rich in free gold. The old Sierra Butte mine is working with a good result, crushing about one hundred tons of ore per day. It is owned by an English company. There are ledges after ledges of ore, prospecting free gold and carrying small quantities of silver and some copper stains. I can show boulders of ore with free gold in them that will weigh two tons. And I can show ledge after ledge that I do believe will pay well to any party that will take hold and develop the same. I would hold one-sixth interest for a small sum of money, just to suit the party or company who takes the mine to work. I located the Peo ledge in June, '78, and sunk on it twenty feet, and fifty pounds of ore were worked at the Carson mint. The result was $90 27 gold and $13 15 silver. The company gave a contract to sink forty feet more, and at a total depth of fifty feet the ledge narrowed to six inches. Eight feet deeper it widens to three feet, and in ten feet farther will widen to the full width of the shaft. All the ore prospects finely in free gold, and the mine is bound to be

A GOOD PAYING PROPERTY.

I also put Henry Toombs on a ledge of a greater size, which prospects in fine gold as good as the Peo ledge. They had a shaft sunk thirty add feet deep and have narrowed down to one foot and I washed a pan of decomposed quartz and I had a nice result in free gold. By sinking 40 or 50 feet deeper and running a level east on the ledge, they are bound to have a mine superior to the Peo ledge, as their outcrop is all of six feet wide on the surface, while the Peo ledge is only two or two and a half feet wide on the surface. I have made locations for B. F. Leete. If they are opened right I am confident they will prove good, well defined ledges, carrying free gold, with small quantities of silver. I sent him samples of sulphurets ore and some oxidized ore, which were assayed by A. B. Williams, giving small results. But I can wash the quartz gravel and get free gold every time. Assaying half an ounce of quartz does not prove a good mine, as I can take ore from the Butte mine that will not even give traces.

THE RIGHT WAY

to work a ton or more of the ore taken from across the whole ledge. I confidently believe that Leete's mine is as good as the best here. There is no limit to water power and timber for reduction works. I have a number of good ledges that I will let any company have to develop on good terms. I can show free gold from all by pulverizing the quartz and washing the pulp in a horn spoon.

JOHN POE.
Poe's Camp, Sierra County Cal.

Petty Larceny at a Premium.

To the Editor of the Gazette:—About one week ago the paint shop of Holt & Coffin, situated on second street, near the corner of Virginia, was entered and robbed of a lot of new brushes and small tools, valued at about $12. The loss was discovered on Monday last, 11th inst., and efforts were made to recover the stolen property, and learn who took it away. The man is well known, and several persons will testify that he deposited some of the stolen articles in different saloons in town, for drinks. On one of the recovered brushes his account for drinks is marked in pencil. He has been charged with the theft, and acknowledges that he took some of the things, and the proof is ample that others were in his possession since they were taken from the shop. Is there no remedy, and is there no law, to reach this and similar cases? The District Attorney and the Justice of the Peace are unwilling to issue a warrant for this man's arrest, on the ground that it will subject the county to great expense, if they fail to convict, and urge the same objections, if he be found guilty and sent to jail. They say "there's nothing in it." If the circumstances of this case do not justify an arrest, I can see no other way for protection from petty thieves but for each one to prosecute his own case with a club or some other convenient weapon.

TAX PAYER.
Reno, August 17th, 1879.

The Reform Club Address.

Colonel R. H. Taylor failed to appear last Saturday evening, for some unexplained reason, and his place was filled by Dr. Hutchings, who had an address prepared for delivery. His theme was, "The Ideal," a subject to which he did ample justice. The church was packed to its fullest capacity.

A Great Wonder.

Prof. Berg, the champion of all rope walkers, and the only one legged artist in the world, will exhibit on Virginia street on Tuesday evening August 19th. Miss Nellie Berg will appear in favorite songs and dances, and Dick Derand in negro character. Come out and see them and don't forget your pocket books.

Accident.

G. W. Cunningham in getting out of his wagon this morning, broke one of his ribs by falling against an awning post.

Fatal Accident.

On the 13th inst., at the Hill Ranch, Carson Sink, a German by the name of W. S. Lodgerwood, who was in the employ of John Traynor, as teamster, was unharnessing his big mule teams when one of the animals kicked him so seriously in the abdomen that he died of his injuries, surviving but thirty hours. Dr. Springstein was called, but medical skill could not give relief, the injuries were of such character, being internal. He was formerly from Indiana, and leaves a mother and brothers, also a young lady to whom he was to be married in a few days, to mourn his loss. He was industrious and temperate, saving his hard earnings to purchase a home which he had just bargained for in the village of Wadsworth. The young lady to whom he was engaged was to have been at Reno on his return from the trip. The case is a sad one, and the parents have the sympathy of many friends.

Hog Raising At the Summit.

Mrs. Pizer, of the Summit, bought a little pig last fall, for the sum of $1. She fed it through the winter and spring, and last week concluded to market the pork in Virginia. So she had the pig slaughtered and sent the meat to the Comstock for sale. There were sixty pounds of pork, and it brought five cents a pound at wholesale, total, $3. Cost of freight, at two cents per pound, $1.20. When this exhibit was made to Mrs. Pizer, she threw up her hands and cried: "So helps me God, Meister Martin, if there's no more than scow beets comin' to me, you keeps it all."

Henry as a Strategist.

Henry Johnson, the handsome delivery clerk at Hagerman & Schooling's, has adopted a new plan to cure beer. He has obtained a badge of the Independent Champions of the Red Cross, a temperance organization, and has it pinned conspicuously on his vest. When a party comes along and seeing the badge asks him to take a drink, thinking he has reformed, he immediately rushes him into Becker's, calls for the frothing beverage and explains what a good job it is. As the victim to his wiles goes out Henry calls after him, "Don't give it away."

Landscape Views.

H. Brince formerly a resident of Reno, sends the GAZETTE a few specimens of his skill, comprising pictures of interesting points in North-Eastern California. Adin is quite a handsome little town and lies in a very extensive plain. Cedarville presents quite an attractive appearance in a picture. Persons who have never visited that country should send for a series of pictures to Mr. Brince. He can be found at Cedarville.

Another Camping Party.

This morning a wagon was loaded up on Virginia street with guns, dogs, canned goods, whiskey and all the necessities for camping out. A party consisting of Spider, W. Haverer, A. White and Joe King soon after climbed into the vehicle and drove away. They are bound for Grizzly valley on a two weeks' hunting expedition. Success to them.

Personal.

J. H. Kinkad returned home this morning from a trip to Meadow lake. J. D. Chesley, Assistant Secretary of State, was on the train for Carson this morning.

Lord Franklin, accompanied by a son of Sir Samuel Cunard, of ocean steamer fame, went west last night in a special car.

The Man Found Dead.

The inquest held on the body of John Alvares, who was found dead at Little Valley, seven miles from Franktown, last Saturday, resulted in a verdict that the death was from natural causes. The deceased was known as Spanish Joe, was about fifty years old, and is supposed to have died of heart disease.

A Carload of Goats.

Last Saturday night a carload of Merino goats arrived here from Elko. The animals were consigned to a Mr. Sherlock of Oregon, and were placed in the railroad company's corral here. They are now being driven over the road to Oregon.

Court of Justice.

In the case of the State vs. M. C. Lake, charged with assault upon W. W. Skinner, the jury last Saturday returned a verdict of guilty. This morning he was fined the sum of $10 and costs, $56. There were no proceedings in the court this afternoon.

Convalescent.

A correspondent writes from Truckee that Mrs. Peck of that place is recovering. She has been sitting up for a week. The last report was that her recovery was impossible.
